PUBLISHERS' NOTE.

VOLUME FOUR of the English Catalogue of Books contained 710 pages, and the Index Volume 254 pages; the total of the two volumes being 964 pages, and the cost thereof £4. 4s.; the Titles Volume £2. 12s. 6d. (published September 1891), and the Index Volume £1. 11s. 6d. (published June 1893). It comprised the books published in the United Kingdom from January 1881 to December 1889. Volume IV. appeared nearly two years, and its index three years and a half, after the close of the period with which they dealt.

Volume V. appears only about half a year after date, though it contains more pages than the two parts of Volume IV. combined. It comprises the books published in the United Kingdom from January 1890 to December 1897, titles and index not only in one volume but in one alphabet. The main entry of each work commences with the author's surname (if it is on the title-page) in heavy type. These entries are usually fuller than in previous volumes, in which each record was confined to one line. As an Index to these 'Author' records, the title, commencing with its most important or its first word, is repeated in the same alphabet, with that word in italics which in the main entry is in thick type. To save space the author's surname in the main entry is usually followed by initials only, except in the case of a lady's name. The author's Christian name is frequently printed in full in the index entry. Sometimes, when a first name and an initial are given in one entry, an initial and a second name are given in another. The index lines are in larger type than in previous volumes, and are not, as formerly, restricted to only one index entry to each title.

The present volume will be found to contain nearly sixty thousand main entries, and about seventy thousand index entries, these latter being, of course, abbreviated repetitions of the main entries.

The 'Transactions' of Learned Societies, and the 'Series' issued by some Publishing Houses, will be found in the Appendices at the end of the volume.

We thank Secretaries and Publishers for kindly aid.

St. Dunstan's House, London, April 1898.
